LEON STAVRINAKIS ENDORSED BY SC CHAMBER OF COMMERCE:

Today the SC Chamber of Commerce, the state's largest pro-business organization, endorsed Leon Stavrakis for election in Charleston County's House District 119. "I would like to thank the Chamber of Commerce for recognizing my pro-business record and my commitment to creating jobs and improving the South Carolina economy. I am very proud of our successes in recruiting Boeing, Maersk Shipping, Carnival Cruise Lines, Verizon, Google, GE, Southwest Air Lines and other world class companies to the Charleston region. At the same time, I understand that small, locally owned businesses are the true engine of the South Carolina economy and our greatest job producers in Charleston county. I am committed to working tirelessly to help those small businesses succeed and grow by cultivating a low tax environment where government red tape is kept to a minimum." said Stavrakis.

Leon Stavrakis has also been endorsed by the Tri-county Association of Realtors, the Charleston Home Builders Association and the Conservation Voters of South Carolina. "This support shows my commitment to Charleston County and shows my commitment to being both pro-business and pro-environment/conservation." added Stavrakis.

Leon Stavrakis is also endorsed by a bi-partisan group of local mayors including; Mayor Bill Wert of Kiawah Island, Mayor William Holtz of Seabrook Island and Mayor Joe Riley of Charleston. In addition to those district 119 mayors, Stavrakis is also supported by Mayor Keith Summey of North Charleston and Mayor Billy Swails of Mt. Pleasant. "The support of this bi-partisan group of Charleston County mayors demonstrates my record of working across party lines for the good people of Charleston County." said Stavrakis.

Finally, Leon Stavrakis was endorsed by the Charleston City Paper and the Charleston Post and Courier on consecutive days this week.
